

Susan Makov

While focusing on ecological problems of the natural world, Makov's paintings depict a world of science fiction and dreams where the environment has taken a tumble. These paintings on canvas focus on subjects of environmental concern, which show up in a fantasy world of architecture and are inhabited by animals and personal objects floating past a field of view.